Dear Mrs. Spivey and Alma-

On this day, one of the greatest blows that I have ever had the misfortune to fall upon me, has saddened ~~the~~ the hearts of this household.

Our own dear father has been called from this earth to join the angels in Heaven.

I write you this because I love you both, and will not ^{lose} your sympathy, because I know I have it without asking.

Pray for me, that I may live down the sad occasion, and may some day join my father which he is now above, and in peace.

Yours lovingly
Ernest Chamberlee
