Biographical Sketch of DeKalb Board of Health: The DeKalb County Board of Health was formed in 1924, with one health officer, a school nurse, a maternal health nurse, and a clerk. It was located in an old house on Ponce de Leon Avenue in Decatur. A new facility in Decatur was completed in the 1950s, with health centers in Doraville, Lynwood Park, Brookhaven, and Scottdale. Services provided included dental work, a school health program, and insect control. DeKalb County was the first county in Georgia with a fluoridated public water supply. In the 1960s, there were 136 employees. By the 1990s, there were many more services under the umbrella of the DeKalb Board of Health. In 2000, the Board of Health had slightly over 500 employees. And in 2020, the DeKalb Board of Health was on the frontlines of COVID-19 care for its citizens.

Description: The Board of Health collection consists mainly of photos and scrapbooks from the 1950s to the 2000s. There are films and slides as well as some news articles and newsletters.

Subject Headings: Where possible, Library of Congress Subject Headings have been used.
