

Known as “the poor man’s physician,” Dr. Conrad Lacunious Allgood had his office in Scottdale. He began practice in 1912, first walking, then riding a bicycle to see his patients. Later he drove this buggy pulled by a horse named Bluejay. By the time he retired in 1949, he had worn out 27 automobiles. (1948)

From the Collection of the DeKalb Historical Society. Photo from Lucy Flowers.