

DeKalb History Center

G. W. Simmons Jr. had a prosperous business in porch swings going at his home on DeKalb Avenue in 1913, but it closed in World War I when he ran out of chains.

Shown are Mr. Simmons, his father, his son Lewis, his wife and daughter, Adaline. Submitted by Mr. Simmons, who now lives at 965 Delaware Ave., SE, Atlanta.