

Denton / DeKalb News/Jan 11/18/85

Dr. Ben Reid Honored

A DeKalb street has been named in honor of Dr. Ben Reid, principal of Dunare School. For Dunare students and faculty it was a well-kept secret until, in special ceremonies shared by the whole school-community, a DeKalb County worker erected the street sign proclaiming the thoroughfare to be "Dr. Ben Reid Drive." Left to right, Mrs. Ben Reid, Dr. Ben Reid, family members, and Joe Gaddy of the DeKalb Traffic Engineering Department.

NEWSphotos By Jim Cook Jr.

Going Native

Karen Gaddy, a fifth-grade teacher at Dunaire Elementary School, used American Indian writings, art and music to celebrate Native American Day recently. She illustrated Indian culture by wearing a doe and elk skin costume made by an Indian friend.

10/12/88

Deborah Newman

NEWSphotos By Jim Cook Jr.

A Little Thanksgiving Whoop-la

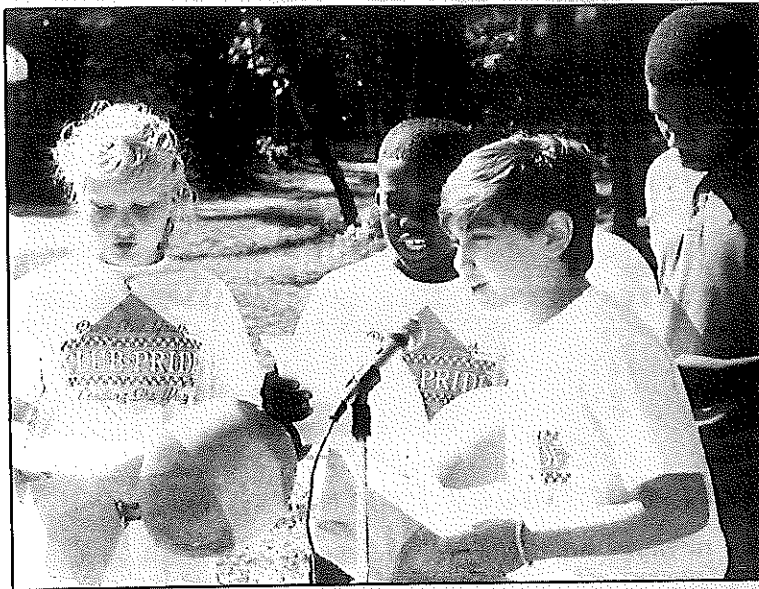

Members of Kathy Shaw's first grade class at Dunaire Elementary School in Stone Mountain got in some early celebration of the Thanksgiving holiday last week when they sported Indian head-dresses while they assembled for a lunch of traditional Thanksgiv-ing fare. The Pilgrims were not completely forgotten, at least by Dionte Johnson, left, who remembered the other guests at the original Thanksgiving feast with his hat and collar.

*The Deland News-Sun
11/23/88*

11/1/89

DeKalb News/Sun
11/1/89

Dunaire Pledges To Be Drug-Free

NEWSphotos By Lisa Tellis

Students at Dunaire Elementary School recently devoted their attentions for one week to emphasize the importance of living a drug-free life. Guest speakers from DeKalb Public Safety, Federal Bureau of Investigation and the DeKalb County Health Department spoke with students about the dangers of drug use. Each morning the students listened to a song about drugs, and repeated a pledge to say "no." Pictured above is Dunaire's Pride Team, Amy Cook (left), Leandre Harris, Ali Samadi and Bernard Mathis leading their fellow students in the Pride Pledge. Even Dunaire's youngest, pictured on the left, took part in the celebration of life.