TILSON PLEASUR AT GOOD NEWS

Mr. Tilson on Tuesday night said that the recess appointment did not come as he expected it quit this early. He said that he planned to make his home in Mason and probably would arrange to move there at an early date.

No official notification from Wash- ington had reached Mr. Tilson, his only source of information being press dispatches. He said he received a letter Tuesday from his brother, Con- gressman John H. Tilson of Connecti- cut, who is republican floor leader of the house, but that the letter was en- tirely personal and contained no men- tion of the judgeship.

"I am, of course, very much grati- fied over the appointment," Mr. Til- son said, "and shall strive to make the central Georgia district an effi- cient and impartial judge."

Mr. Tilson stated that he had no idea when appointments of attorney and marshal would be made, but pre- sumed it would be at an early date.

HARRIS SILENT ON APPOINTMENT

August 6, 1927.—(A)—Senator William J. Harris this afternoon de- clined formally to comment on the re- ceived appointment given William J. Tilson, of Atlanta, to the judgeship of the new middle Georgia judicial district, other than to say that it was what he expected.

Both Senator George and Senator Harris opposed the nomination in the senate and procured an adverse re- port from the committee with a ma- jority of the senate defeating the nomination by an overwhelming ma- jority.

Slayer of Guffin Will Get Hearing In Decatur Today

Decatur, Ga., July 6.—(Special).—Preliminary trial of Walter Johnson, proprietor of a gasoline filling sta- tion at Ocala, Ga., charged with mur- der as a result of the death of Parka Guffin, produce dealer of Atlanta, will be held Tuesday at 3 o'clock before Jus- tice H. Livsey, of De- catur.

Conflicting accounts of the slaying of Guffin were furnished investigat- ing officers today by Johnson, who is in DeKalb county jail, and W. E. Dooley, who is held at Atlanta police station as a material witness.

Johnson declares that Guffin and Dooley attempted to stage a hold-up. It is said, after he was awakened at his home by the pair on pretense they de- sired to purchase a small quantity of gasoline. He said he was struck on the after he saw chase of several hundred yards in his own car.

Dooley, who resides at 607 Gaikill street, Atlanta, and who was with Guffin in the automobile shortly after midnight Monday, told police he and Guffin awakened Johnson to purchase gasoline and that Guffin and the gaso- line dealer had a long conversation following which, upon the admission of Johnson to "heat it," the two motorists drove away. According to Dooley's story, Johnson followed them in his car a short distance, firing one bullet at Johnson, Dooley said he and Johnson left Atlanta about 11 o'clock Monday night for Decatur, where they were Habersham county, where they were headed back to Atlanta. He declared when Johnson was awakened, Guffin, re- garding payment of five gallons of gasoline bought at some previous time. After the shooting, he declared, he lost control of the machine, which ran into a ditch and where they were a passing motorist brought the two men to Grady hospital, where it was found Guffin had succumbed almost instantly to his wounds. Johnson had taken effect and returned home.

The body of Awtry & Lowmies, the chapel of Awtry & Lowmies, will be held Wednesday at 10 o'clock at the East Side Tabernacle, Ga. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Guffin; four brothers, H. A., L. M., P. and A. F. Guffin, and a sister, Mrs. C. L. Powell, of Lithonia, Ga. He resided at 36 Cummings street, Atlanta.

Cars and Busses He Shot Victim In Subway Strike As Hold-Up Man

New York, July 6.—Approximately 1,000,000 New Yorkers, despite a sub- way strike, continued their routine pastime of strap-bugging at the peak of bottle-shaped Manhattan to return to their homes at the end of the work- ing day.

The strike of 735 motormen and switchmen which threatened to tie up completely all subway traffic, did not prevent the operation of a 50 per cent service.

The other 1,500,000 persons who daily use the subway cheerfully came to the surface and used trolley cars, busses, taxi, trucks, elevated trains, moving vans or borrowed automobiles.

Except for inconveniences caused by delays in getting to work and home, New York was not bothered much by the walkout.

There were no disorders, partly be- cause the strikers' general committee urged the men to obey the law, and partly because more than 5,000 police were on guard on every train and platform, as well as at important sta- tions.

According to James L. Gauckebush, general counsel of the L. R. T., 72 of the disgruntled workers who had split from the Consolidated Railroad Workers' union and had split from the parent organization, the Brother- hood of Interborough Rapid Transit employees, returned to their posts. He admitted any others who wished to do likewise would be welcomed back into the service. Frank Hedley, pres- ident of the Interurban, had said, in a statement two days before the walk- out, that any employees who quit Tuesday morning would be dismissed.

But his attorneys put him on the witness stand and the remarks that he made there held spellbound the largest crowd the criminal court has seen since the Leopold-Loeb case. It remains to be seen whether they made as great an impression on the jury.

man had declared the Boer war had knit together every branch of the English speaking race.

"I deny, sir," declared Mr. Hale, with great feeling, "that the American section of that race is in sympathy with Great Britain in the South African war to stann out the liberty of a people. I deny that the American people are to be told o the ghastly wheels of war against the South African republics. And when the eader of the conservatives in the house of commons asserts that, he should be ot by some disclaimer from this side of he Atlantic.

Not So Neutral Always.

"I do not wish international complications," said Mr. Hale in conclusion. "I do not wish war. I recall that we have been so much in love with neutrality times past that we could not speak up idly for Hungary, Poland, Armenia, uba and Greece, and I do not know why is now that we must speak with hated eath in favor of liberty."

"I do not believe," said he earnestly, hat the British people are in favor of is war. I believe that the great queen, i bended knees, has prayed that war ight be averted; I do not believe that a great premier of England favored this r. It was the act and movement of a arp cabinet minister, engaged with gold eculators, which favored the war."

Whitley, his next son, is a prominent business man of this place, and B. A. Whitley and Elbert, the next sons, are highly esteemed business men of Atlanta and Yaco, Tex., respectively, while Lewis, the youngest son lived with his father and superintended the farm. Miss Mollie, the only unmarried daughter, also lived with her parents. Mr. J. D. Webster, of the Cable Piano Company, of Atlanta, married Miss Cora, and Mr. Everett Nolan, a prominent farmer of the upper part of the county, married Miss Belle, the youngest daughter.

Mr. Whitley was a patriarch indeed, the father of fourteen children, the grandfather of sixty and the great grandfather of twenty-seven, making a family of 101. He was the oldest Free Mason of the county, having taken the degree in Lithonia lodge, No. 81, in the early fifties. All of his life he has been a dear lover of Masonry and rarely ever missed a meeting. He has been a consistent member of the Baptist church for about fifty year, and was a man of many noble traits of character. His habits in life were most exemplary. He never tasted whiskey except as prescribed by a physician, nor did he use tobacco, coffee or any other stimulant. He never cursed an oath. Hotel.

New York, January 19.—The tenth annual banquet of the Confederate Veterans camp of New York, given in honor of General R. E. Lee, was held at the Waldorf-Astoria tonight, 300 persons being in attendance. One of the features was the presence of a large number of women, members of the families of the camp members.

Edward Owen, commander of the camp, presided. While the dinner was in progress Mrs. Jefferson Davis was escorted into the center box in the balcony overlooking the banquet hall. She was given an ovation. Fans and napkins were thrown into the air and flowers were flung to the box from the tables below.

In a short time Mrs. Davis was surrounded by a group which deserted the banquet tables to greet her. An informal reception of an hour or more was accordingly held by the widow of the head of the confederacy.

The dinner over, Commander Owen proposed the toast: "The President of the United States and the Army and Navy." It was drunk standing.

Thomas Nelson Page, of Virginia, responded to the toast, "The South Beyond Her Borders." The speaker first referred to the part played by the south in the upbuilding of the city of New York. He then spoke of Stonewall Jackson and paid that southern hero a stirring tribute. He next told of the life of General Lee as a civilian and as president of an educational institution and said that his motto was, "Duty is the sublimest word in the language." He alluded in glowing terms to the life work of Mrs. Jefferson Davis.

Letters of regret were read from President McKinley, Governor Roosevelt, Mayor Van Wyck and Colonel Longstreet of New Orleans. The letter from President McKinley was as follows:

"I received your kind letter inviting me to be present and respond to a toast at the tenth annual banquet of your camp on the 19th instant, and I regret very much that engagements already made prevent me from sending an acceptance. The cordial feeling of mutual respect and good will existing between the sections of our now reunited country, among all the people is most gratifying to me."

and reflected much credit on themselves, the oration of Mr. Mott was the feature of the contest. His speech was remarkably clear and logical and was replete with all the graces of eloquence. Mr. Mott is a member of the class of 1900.

At Columbus, Ga.

Columbus, Ga., January 19.—(Special).—The exercises in this city today on the occasion of the anniversary of the birthday of General Robert E. Lee were particularly appropriate and interesting. The exercises were held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and were largely attended. The superior courtroom was practically filled. This large attendance was both remarkable and gratifying, the inclement weather considered. Camp Benning, Muscogee Council and the Daughters of the Confederacy occupied reserved seats. A large number of children were present and took a deep interest in the exercises. The courtroom had been tastefully decorated with confederate flags and colors, and with pictures of General Lee and other southern generals. An exceedingly enjoyable programme was carried out.

The orator of the day, Hon. Henry R. Goethius, was introduced by Mr. Robert M. Howard. Mr. Howard took occasion to criticize rather severely the public school board for their refusal to let the higher grades of the school attend the Lee exercises in the morning. This refusal caused the exercises to be postponed until the afternoon. Mr. Goethius's oration was a splendid one. It teemed with historical facts of value and interest. At the conclusion of the exercises many pressed to the front and warmly complimented him upon his oration.

Before adjournment Miss Emma Burrus sang "Tenting on the Old Campground," a song which brought tears to the eyes of many of the old soldiers.

There was the usual celebration of the days as a legal holiday.

Prize Essays at Eatonton.

Eatonton, Ga., January 19.—(Special).—The birthday of General Robert E. Lee was celebrated today at 10:30 o'clock under the auspices of the Dixie chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy. A medal was offered by the chapter to the best one of six essays written by pupils of Eatonton public schools on the subject, "Robert E. Lee." The six competitors were Misses Tallulah Jenkins, Lula Dennis, Mary DeJarnette, Bertha Thomas, Julia Adams and Joseph S. Turner, Jr.

These essays on the life and character of our great southern general were splendidly written and well read, showing a interest in his noble life and example which will never die in this glorious southland.

The Judges, after careful consideration, awarded the prize, a beautiful gold medal, to Miss Tallulah Jenkins.

Following was an address by Colonel R. B. Nisbet, who fought for four long years under this gallant leader, and thus he brought out incidents of his life which are unwritten history, picturing him in battle and in private life, that grand and noble gentleman that he was.

Appropriate music for the occasion was rendered by Miss Florence Taibot and others.

This was the first celebration of the kind under the auspices of the Daughters of the Confederacy at this place, and may the success of this day's exercises tend encouragement to their efforts, which have always been so much appreciated by the southern people.

Exercises at Sparta.

Sparta, Ga., January 19.—(Special).—In spite of the inclemency of the weather a large audience assembled at the College hall this morning to attend the Lee birthday exercises. Judge James Harley was selected by the Ladies' Memorial Association to deliver the memorial address. Judge Harley delivered an eloquent and impressive address and paid a glowing tribute to the dead chieftain. An interesting and entertaining programme containing the following features was rendered:

R. C. A. IS CHARGED WITH REFUSING TO AID CRIME FIGHT

Harbord to Investigate Charges of Withholding Use of Patents

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—(AP)—James G. Harbord, chairman of the board of the Radio Corporation of America, asserted Thursday he personally would investigate charges that his company "for a few paltry dollars" refused Chicago and other cities use of patents for radio equipment to fight crime.

Harbord said in testimony before the senate interstate commerce committee that if he found correct evidence that the R. C. A. had refused to aid in fighting crime, he would see to it that the R. C. A.'s position was altered. Senator Wheeler said that from the statements of Kenneth Cox, Detroit engineer employed by that city's police force to set up a radio alarm system for use in apprehending criminals, it appeared that the R. C. A. refused to assist in fighting crime.

Information that the justice department is conducting an investigation to determine whether the Radio Corporation of America is violating the Sherman anti-trust act was read in the Record at the senate interstate commerce committee hearing on the O'Brien bills.

A letter from John Lord O'Brien, assistant to the attorney general, which said the inquiry centered on whether the corporation was exercising its right under patents it holds was ordered placed in the Record by Chairman Couzens.

HEAVY PISTOL TAX APPLIES TO TOYS, HARRISON RULES

Levy Higher Than That Placed on Sale of Real Firearms

Six and 7-year-old desperadoes who have already acquired a suitable toy pistol, firing either caps or combs, are likely to find them hard to purchase hereafter.

Under a ruling on the recent tax act affecting toy firearms, made Thursday by Comptroller General William B. Harrison, the $500 tax imposed by the last legislature applies to all manner of pistols, regardless of their size, unless they happen to be real, bullet-firing pistols, in which case the tax is only from $50 to $100.

Upon his desk in the Capitol Wednesday, Mr. Harrison had a strange array of weapons. In tiny holsters were two pistols, each the size of a fat cockroach. Yet, one of them was ruled liable to the tax because of its size. This was because one of the small guns had a genuine hammer and trigger, and would fire miniature caps, while the other was a dummy pistol.

Mr. Harrison had for his consideration also a toy pistol and a toy gun, almost identical in size and both capable of hurling a cork several feet. The pistol comes under the tax requirement, though the gun, by virtue of its longer stock, does not.

"I have ruled that all toy pistols are taxable under this act, but that limitations of toy pistols are not," ruling said. "By limitations I mean to include glass candy containers made in the shape of pistols and molded pistols that will not fire caps, blanks or corks, or that are incapable of any action."

So hereafter will have trouble matching his cowboy suit with a worthy weapon, and may have to brandish a glass gun at imaginary Indians.

World Missionary Plan Outlined by Foreign Secretary

The "boundless and latitude of a world wide missionary program calls for world vision, broad-minded outlook and deep spirituality, according to Dr. O. E. Goddard, of Nashville, Tenn., whose address Wednesday night on "The Longitude and Latitude of Our World Missionary Program" was the outstanding feature of the annual meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the North Georgia Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in session at Grace Church, South.

Dr. Goddard, who is secretary of foreign missions of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, said there had been five epochs in the church's missionary history, namely, the initial or pioneer, the transplanting, adopting and adapting, the mother church living in a new land, and the period of the autonomous period; and that the independent church, which he said requires patience, faith and lots of religion on the part of those who represent the mother church.

7 Hours in Bed and No 7 Minutes of Sleep!

The Toll Acidity Takes

You go to bed dejected, but the minutes you hit the pillow all sleepless minutes. If you do sleep at all, it's only in snatches and you wake out of these snatches with a cold, startled feeling, sometimes in a cold sweat. Morning finds you ragged and worn. How long it takes to get back to normal is a matter of days.

Acidity is due to our unnatural eating habits, our excessive smoking and irregular hours. The excess acid-upsets digestion and causes acid-conditions with gas and fermentation causes putrefaction and fermentation in the gastro-intestinal canal which frequently results in ragged general weakness, loss of vitality, loss of strength and corrective of acidity has been developed by a famous 100-year-old pharmaceutical house in Germany. This new, improved formula comes in the form of universal white tablets called Magnesia Oxidata.

To ascertain just how "acid" you are, make this 5-day acidity test. Buy a bottle of Magnesia Oxidata from any drug store. Take two after each meal, three times a day. It was owned by Eugene Shurtzoff, of Boston, who served the horse here in appearance of the long service in army. He was killed in the railroad strike of 1906. The doctor's summer home is in Blufford. For the last several years he has been in Blufford.

DEATH OF NEEDHAM WHITLEY.

One of the Oldest Citizens of DeKalb County.

Lithonia, Ga., January 19.—(Special).—Mr. Needham Whitley, one of the oldest, most highly respected and in many respects remarkable citizens of this county, died at his home, about two miles above town this evening, surrounded by a very large family of children.

Mr. Whitley was born at Wilmington, N. C., March 8, 1818, and was, therefore, in his eighty-second year. In 1824 his parents move to Diamond's district, in this county, and here has Mr. Whitley lived ever since. In 1843 he settled the homestead on which he died this evening.

Mr. Whitley has been twice married, his first wife being Miss Sarah Marbut, from one of the prominent families of the county. His first wife lived only a short while, and in 1845 he married Miss Mary Stephenson, who still survives him.

Mr. Whitley raised a family of fourteen children, thirteen of whom are still living and among them are some of the best citizens of this and other states. His oldest child, and the only one by his first wife, is Newton J. Whitley, a prominent politician of Bremont, Tex. Mrs. H. H. Stowers, of Atlanta, is his eldest daughter and is the mother of a

MEETING OF ENTOMOLOGISTS

Held in Macon on the 23d of March.

Sparta, Ga., January 19.—(Special.)—Honorable O. B. Stevens said today important meeting of the entomologists of the state would be held at the Hotel in Macon, on Tuesday the 19th, that a large crowd from all over the state was expected, as the meeting was one of the greatest importance. It was expected that the representatives of the different sections will be present and discuss the best mode of raising the crop, which, up to this time, has been exceptionally large. The work of the entomologists of the state will be too highly considered in the importance of protecting our crops from the ravages of insects. Entomologist A. L. Quaintance, of the experiment station, will probably have some very valuable information for all who attend, as he has been making some very interesting observations recently.

Whitley, the next two sons, are two of the most popular members of the Atlanta police force. Mrs. Eulah Gregory, his next daughter, died some years since, leaving several children. J. B. Whitley, his next son, is a prominent business man of this place, and B. A. Whitley and Elbert, the next sons, are highly esteemed business men of Atlanta and Waco, Tex., respectively, while Lewis, the youngest son lived with his father and superintended the farm. Miss Mollo, the only unmarried daughter, also lived with her parents, Mr. J. D. Webster, of the Cable Piano Company, of Atlanta, married Miss Cora, and Mr. Everett Nolan, a prominent farmer of the upper part of the county, married Miss Belle, the youngest daughter. Mr. Whitley was a patriarch indeed, the father of fourteen children, the grandfather of sixty and the great grandfather of twenty-seven, making a family of 101. He was the oldest Free Mason of the county, having taken the degrees in Lithonia lodge, No. 84, in the early fifties. All of his life he has been a dear lover of Masonry and rarely ever missed a meeting. He has been a consistent member of the Baptist church for about fifty years, and was a man of many noble traits of character. His habits in life were most exemplary. He never tasted whisky except as prescribed by a physician, nor did he use tobacco, coffee or any other stimulant. He never cursed an oath. He will be buried with Masonic honors at Woodville (Redan) Sunday at 10 o'clock a. m.

In a short time Mrs. Davis was surrounded by a group which deserted the banquet tables to greet her. An informal reception of an hour or more was accordingly held by the widow of the head of the confederacy.

The dinner over, Commander Owen proposed the toast: "The President of the United States and the Army and Navy." It was drunk standing.

Thomas Nelson Page, of Virginia, responded to the toast, "The South Beyond Her Borders." The speaker first referred to the part played by the south in the upbuilding of the city of New York. He then spoke of Stonewall Jackson and paid that southern hero a stirring tribute. He next told of the life of General Lee as a civilian and as president of an educational institution and said that his motto was, "Duty is the sublimest word in the language." He alluded in glowing terms to the life work of Miss Jefferson Davis.

Letters of regret were read from President McKinley, Governor Roosevelt, Mayor Van Wyck and Colonel Longstreet of New Orleans. The letter from President McKinley was as follows:

The six competitors were Misses Tallulah Jenkins, Lula Dennis, Mary DeJarnette, Bertha Thomas, Julia Adams and Joseph S. Turner, Jr.

These essays on the life and character of our great southern general were splendidly written and well read, showing an interest in his noble life and example which will never die in this glorious southland.

The judges, after careful consideration, awarded the prize, a beautiful gold medal, to Miss Tallulah Jenkins.

Following was an address by Colonel R. B. Nisbet, who fought for four long years under this gallant leader, and thus he brought out incidents of his life which are unwritten history, picturing him in battle and in private life, that grand and noble gentleman that he was.

Appropriate music for the occasion was rendered by Miss Florence Talbot and others.

the appropriations bill had been sent, now-and-then sessions were held for a few minutes as a time for the purpose of working off several resolutions. Some of them were pointed and some diplomatic. One of the resolutions went through and will get into the record—directed at the senate.

A resolution written by Mr. Myrick, of Chatham, and introduced by Mr. Conger suggested that, inasmuch as the house of representatives had become sympathetically inclined toward the institutions of higher education, and inasmuch as the members of the house were all football enthusiasts; and inasmuch as Tech is going to play somebody a game of football tomorrow, that the information be "diplomatically and delicately" conveyed to Tech that "the house is in a receptive mood." The resolution was lost on vote, but Tech got the information in some way and the "receptive mood of the house" was appeased before adjournment time.

Mr. Connor, of Spalding, offered a resolution suggesting that T. B. Feldor be temporarily loaned to South Carolina, and that, inasmuch as there appears some difference of opinion between the emperor of Germany and the czar of Russia, Dr. Elcheberger might help them out. It, too, was lost on vote. The resolution is as follows:

"Whereas, since the passage of the prohibition bill, the old Ship of State is sailing quietly along over the Sea of Bands; and

"Whereas, the dry legislation having been shaped, directed and manipulated by the Hon. T. B. Feldor and the Right Rev. G. W. Elcheberger; and

"Whereas, the great state of Georgia was indeed fortunate in having the able assistance of these distinguished gentlemen; and

"Whereas, since the above named gentlemen have saved this state; and resolved, that the Rev. Dr. Elcheberger be given his passport and permitted to proceed at once to the trenches. B. Feldor be further resolved, that the Hon. T. B. Feldor be permitted to proceed to the state of South Carolina, at which point he shall lend his able assistance to the Hon. Ulysses in his candidacy for the United States senate—and for other purposes.

The resolution which went through without a dissenting vote was offered by Dr. Lebetter, of Polk, as follows: "Whereas, the grave and reverend seniors of the upper house of the general assembly, from their lofty pinnacle of senatorial dignity, have deemed wise and proper to administer a severe rebuke to the lower house, for derelictions of duty; and

"Whereas, we recognize the fact that a great preponderance of wisdom, patriotism and dignity of the general lords; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That we acknowledge and bewail our many transgressions of the past, and deeply regret that any action of a this house should be construed into a desire to encroach upon the sacred and time-honored rights of the senate.

"Resolved, further, That in substance to the contents of the foregoing preamble and resolution, we wish it distinctly understood that we are apostles of Baron Munchausen, and belong to the Modern Ananias club."

France Uses "Movies" To Stir Public Interest In New Loan for the War

Paris, November 24.—The screens in every moving picture theater in France tomorrow will present a series of official films concerning the local war loan to which subscriptions open on that day. Minister of Finance Ribot is thus applying for the first time to national ends what is defined at the ministry of finance as one of the quickest practical means for the diffusion of ideas.

It will take ten pictures, prepared by notable artists, to announce each important fact concerning the loan. The final design will show a German soldier crushed under the weight of a French gold piece, while a rooster—the real Gallic cock—reaches out his beak from the bag-releif of the coin and seems to scarcely worth while to commit so many crimes to come to this.

Moving Pictures Gave Him $1,500,000 Fortune From $1,000 Investment

New York, November 24.—Samuel Long, who was president of the Kalem Film company at the time of his death last July, left a fortune of $1,500,000, made in the moving picture business from an investment of less than $1,000 seven years ago. It became known today when a dispute over his will reached surrogate's court.

ing every effort to save his life. Mr. Lott was rushed to the Douglas hospital, where an operation was performed.

There were a number of witnesses to the tragedy, but no one seems to know its cause. Sheriff Rickertson and deputies went immediately to West Green, but were unable to locate G. W. Lott. It is learned that after the shooting he went home, told his wife what he had done, changed clothes and left.

The entire section has been shocked because of the prominence of the Lott family.

tended the final performance of "The Outcast." When her body was placed upon the operating table at Grady the program of the play was taken from her fingers.

There were no eye-witnesses. A number of residents and pedestrians reached the scene shortly after the shooting. One of these was Dr. G. A. Moore, who lives in the Savoy apartments at 11 West Baker street, just off Peachtree. He was reading in his apartments when he heard the first two shots and a woman's scream.

DR. MOORE'S STORY.

"I ran out of the building and in the direction of the shrieking," he stated to reporters. "Immediately following the scream there were two more shots in rapid succession. I was the first to reach the bodies. They lay in a heap almost side by side. The pistol was under his body. She lay a little over to one side, a piece of paper (the program of 'The Outcast') in her fingers.

Nelher was conscious. The woman died instantly, a bullet through her heart and another penetrating the brain, finding exit in the rear of the skull. For means of identification she had only a small metal purse with the initials "D. F. W." engraved on the surface.

An engagement ring of gold with a small diamond set was on the same finger with a wedding ring. Inside of the latter of which was the inscription, from "Bob to Doty, 6, 12, '12."

It was stated at the Y. W. C. A. that Mrs. Waldrop had for some time experienced difficulties with her husband.

For a considerable while, it was said at the Y. W. C. A., her husband had been entreating her to rejoin him. She had declined his pleas, it was said, and last night set out for the theater alone, so far as was known at the association.

R. T. Gilbert, night manager of the Peachtree Scherrer cafe, visited Grady hospital shortly after 1 o'clock, identifying the body as that of D. F. Waldrop, who had been employed until a few weeks ago at the Whitehall street cafe.

BRANDISHED REVOLVER.

The man, Gilbert stated, had been in the Peachtree restaurant early Wednesday night, and asking for Owen Gilbert, the manager, from whom he sought to borrow money. He showed a long pistol to the cafe man, brandishing it.

"I'm going to meet my wife after the theater tonight," Gilbert quoted him as having said.

Gilbert also stated that Waldrop and his wife had been separated for about three weeks, and that he was anxious for a reunion. The dead woman had been residing at the Young Women's Christian association for about a month.

The body of the woman was removed to the undertaking establishment of Barclay and Brandon.

The names of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson are not mentioned in the Atlanta directory.

PARENTS OPPOSE OPERATION TO SAVE DEFECTIVE INFANT

New York, November 24.—A case resembling that of the Bollinger baby, of Chicago, developed here today when a New York physician confronted the question whether the life of a defective baby should be saved by a surgical operation, despite the wishes of the parents.

The baby, a girl, was born last night. Mentally, the child appears to be normal, but is paralyzed below the waist, has club foot, distorted knee joints and a spinal ailment which, physicians say, will prove fatal if an operation is not soon performed.

Dr. Julius Goldsmith, the attending physician, notified the parents that the child's life could be saved only by a prompt operation. He said afterwards: "The parents absolutely refuse permission for the necessary operation. I could probably save the child's life, although it would always remain helplessly crippled. There is no action that I can take without the permission of the parents."

The father of the defective baby said: "I believe the Chicago physician was right. For the sake of humanity, I had rather see this child die now than have to live seven or eight years in misery and suffering. I think it would be better for all concerned. The prolonging its life, and that it would never be well. Even though the operation were performed, they say, it would always be paralyzed below the waist. If the baby's imperfections were a small thing it would be a different matter. I would not want to sacrifice its life under such circumstances. But what would be the use to let it live? It would always be a cripple and charge to its parents and society. It is a hard thing to say, but it would be better dead."

BELGIAN COMMISSION FOR THE UNITED STATES

London, November 24.—The representatives of the Belgian government designated to go to the United States called for New York today on the Adriatic. They are E. Van de Vyver, minister of finance, and Chevalier E. Carton de Wiart, minister of justice. Madame de Wiart, imprisoned for several months in Germany, sailed with him.

The commission will investigate the purchase of supplies for Belgium in the United States.

The Belgian legation gave out the following today: "According to a statement in The Hague, the Belgian ministers of finance and justice are leaving for America with the object of contracting a loan in the United States. This statement is incorrect. The Belgian minister of finance is going over with the object of arranging a loan, but merely to inspect the carrying out of contracts connected with supplies for the Belgian army."

FRANCE GIVES MEDALS TO AMERICAN WOMEN

Paris, November 24.—The gold medal of the foreign office, bestowed for acts of great devotion, which President Poincare has directed shall be presented to Mrs. W. K. Vanderbilt for her work in the American ambulance, is on the way to the United States for presentation by Ambassador Jusserand.

A like medal for Mrs. Robert Woods Bliss, wife of the secretary of the American embassy in Paris, for the organization of the care of orphans, also is on the way to America for presentation by the ambassador. It was announced today that the foreign office medal had been bestowed upon Mrs. Harry Edwin Whitney, founder of the hospital for wounded at Julliy, and that it had been dispatched to the United States and would be similarly presented.

MRS. BOWDON'S TRIP ENDS IN SURPRISE

Calls Attention of Alabama, Georgia and Florida People to Natural Product.

"I have just returned from a trip to Georgia states Mrs. M. S. Bowdon, 6902 First Ave., Birmingham, Ala. "and

Other detachments of United States troops cleared the streets on Arizona side and barred the progress of all persons across the line in either direction. All saloons were hurriedly closed on the Sonora side and the Americans who were in them were ordered out at the point of guns.

Mounted Villa soldiers are reported to have hurled insults across the front of the American soldiers, daring them to fight.

The demonstration of the Villa officersmen was said to have been the growth of a report that United States customs officials were withholding foodstuffs from entry into Mexico.

Another report was that the forces of General Alvaro Obregon were allowed to advance on Nogales, Sonora along the American side. This increased the temper of Villa officers.
